Recent Financial Assistance News:

ED announced that rather than collecting tax transcripts, institutions may use a signed paper copy of the 2015 IRS tax return for verification documentation.

In the case of students selected for verification of nonfiling, students will no longer be required to provide documentation from the IRS or other tax authorities that show they, their spouse, or their parents did not file a tax return. However, these students must still provide a signed statement "certifying that the individual has not filed and is not required to file a 2015 income tax return," as well as a document listing the amount and sources of any income from that year. They must also submit a copy of a W-2 (or an equivalent document) for any source of employment from that year.

Mission Statement:

It is recognized that the costs of higher education are a significant addition to a family's budget. The mission of the Financial Assistance Office is to provide opportunities for students choosing to pursue a course of study at Francis Marion University. This is accomplished through:

- (1) Providing information services to prospective students and the community;
- (2) Assisting students in the financial assistance application process;

- (3) Determining eligibility for assistance and making financial assistance awards;
- (4) Facilitating the timely delivery of financial assistance proceeds.
